Our capstone courses link education to real world, redefine relationship between industry and university and produce tangible results in a short time frame

This was a huge project and required much attention to detail. The team asked the right questions and were very helpful to Arc of Monmouth staff in deciphering what needed to be done. They provided many useful suggestions.

The capstone courses program is a triple win for students, industry and school.

Our projects are so diverse to meet every student interest from industry-sponsored projects to entrepreneurship.

Our business model is so adaptable to suit your business requirements.

Our interdisciplinary teams are built to function and achieve. They work with passion and deliver results .

Our process identifies business problems , studies feasibility and risks , understand multi-stakeholders requirements , architect the solution and deliver products in an evolutionary fashion .

Our prototypes will show tangible results as early as the third week of the process and will use your feedback continuously to assure quality , improve and enhance.

Our project managers are carefully selected and they will form the team that has the skill set needed for your project.

Our goal is not to meet your expectations but to exceed them.
